IS OUR COUNTRY SAFE?

No Republic Can Long Survive Unjust and Corrupt Elections

It is not surprising that Secretary Taft should serve on Cuba as emphatic a warning as he did in his special report to Congress as the Cuban affair. "If the insurrectionary habit persists," is the way he puts it, "if again the Cubans divide into armed forces, the strong hand of our Government will have to be imposed at whatever cost to life and property and permanent peace should then ensue because it would be of our keeping."

The meaning is clear that, in the view of Secretary Taft, one more insurrection down in Cuba means that the United States Government will intervene, not for temporary but for permanent occupation.

And what is the lesson of Cuba's trouble? And what will insure Cuba's peace and integrity in the future?

The lesson is that no republic can long survive unjust and corrupt elections, which furnish the vitality and machinery of Government. To insure Cuba's peace and integrity in future Cuba must have fair and free elections. There must be proper laws for municipal Governments, for elections and for the independence of the judiciary and they must be enforced. The lapse from republican ideals and the ascendancy of corruption wrought the havoc of last year, and they will destroy again.

Let us be wise and do our little part by seeing that in our city and county we practice fairness and honesty in elections. Corruption will dishonor the entire State, when each county tolerates frauds.

J. A. Scott, Avon, Ky., says: "Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy cured some hogs for me that I did not think could possibly be saved. I had said I would not give fifteen cents for these hogs." Sold and guaranteed by W. S. Lloyd.

Did She Forget?

Physicians say Mrs. Neill, of New York, may have killed her husband and have no recollection of it. Of course. When a woman is madly buying Christmas presents she cannot remember every little thing she does in moments of reason.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with croup if you apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil at once. It acts like magic.

Highest Priced Orchid.

The highest price ever paid for any orchid was paid last March, at an auction sale in London, for a heavily-marked form of Odontoglossum, $86,035, and for a small plant. It has enormous heavy lobes of chocolate brown on each segment of the flower, occupying approximately one-half the area. Country Life in America.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Tragic Death of Mrs. Mary Gordon, of Bourbon County.

While returning home from Lexington, where she had been Saturday to do some Christmas shopping, Mrs. Mary Gordon, who resides near Paris, in Bourbon county, was overcome by the severe cold and as a result was frozen to death.

Mrs. Gordon went to Lexington to arrange a compromise with the Blue Grass Traction Company, for an accident on that road. She was expected to return on the 4 o'clock car Saturday afternoon and her nephew, Gre & Hampshire, was there to meet her. She did not come on that car, however, and it was thought that she had stayed with relatives in the city. She came, however, on the 5 o'clock car, leaving it at the intersection of the road to her home one and one half miles from car line. Her nephew supposed she would spend the night in Lexington and returned home. As no one was at the station to meet her she with her bundles of presents started to walk home. The night was cold and she evidently became numb and stopped. Her dead body was found Sunday morning by her nephew who again went to meet her.

For Tobacco Raisers.

Shelburne's Tobacco warehouse at Lexington, Ky., is now open and selling tobacco at satisfactory prices for all its patrons. Not one single lot has been rejected since they opened, Dec. 1, and every customer has gone home well pleased with the sales. Shelburne is the originator of daily sales and open house on the Lexington market and every day and every night his house is open and ready to receive tobacco at all hours. Planters will always find someone to give them a hearty welcome at Shelburne's and will find every possible accommodation for themselves and their teams. Shelburne's is lighted with large, solid skylights affording the best light for the display and sale of loose leaf tobacco that can be obtained. It also has the largest sales floor and most commodious driveways, and in fact is in every way the best constructed and equipped warehouse in the whole Burley section.

Mr. Sims, Shelburne gives his personal attention to every lot of tobacco sold at his warehouse and guarantees the highest market prices for every parcel. The buyers at Lexington are eager for tobacco and are paying outside prices for all grades and are determined to make that the leading burley market of the world. Our planters will make no mistake in carrying their tobacco to Shelburne's Warehouse, which is located on Havana Ave., west side of South Broadway, opposite the Burley Loose Warehouse, Lexington, Ky.

CONTEST IN MIDDLETOWN.

The Anti-Saloon League Charges Cross Frauds in Voting.

The contest petition was filed with the Election Contest Board by attorneys for the Anti-Saloon League, at Middletown last week, alleging wholesale fraud in the local option election held at that place on December 11. It is alleged that no less than sixty-five illegal votes were cast in the City Hall precinct which went voted by ninety majority. The town voted for saloons by about 33.

Car With Speed of 100 Miles an Hour.

Extensive experiments are being conducted by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company at its Shops in South Louisville to perfect a motor car with which to equip its line between Louisville and Shelbyville. Twenty-two trains a day are now run over this line. The institution of the trolley system, the third-rail and other motive agencies have been considered at different times, but for various reasons they have been discarded. The expert machinists of the company are now at work upon the models of steam and gasoline motor cars. The model that has met with the greatest favor is that of a car to be run by gasoline said to have attained a speed of 100 miles an hour on the Union Pacific railroad, where it is used to gather traffic for through trains from points where limited trains do not stop.

There will be offered for sale on the 16th of Jan., 1907 the following real estate to-wit: 1742 acres of land lying in the county of Montgomery on the waters of State creek, on the Howard, Mill & Mt. Fee Allowed.

In response to a request from Auditor Huger a ruling was made by Attorney General Hays as to what fees are to be allowed Sheriff's and County Clerks for issuing warrants for and collecting delinquent taxes on real and personal property. He holds that Sheriffs are entitled to six per cent on the first $300 and three per cent on all amounts after that; County Clerks are entitled to 60 cents for issuing warrants for delinquent taxes; for recording such tax sales one cent each ten words; 25 cents for recording release on redemption and ten cents for indexing each name against whom a warrant is issued.

Asylum Patient Dies After Costing State $10,000.

After costing the State more than $10,000 to cure for her during her long life, Lucy Darby, the last survivor of the 113 patients transferred from the Lexington asylum to the Western Kentucky asylum at Hopkinsville, when it was opened November 21, 1854, is dead at the latter institution, aged 77 years. She sustained a fracture of the hip ten years ago, and had been bed-ridden ever since and totally blind.

Lucy Darby was born in the Lexington asylum, her mother having been a patient of the institution at the time, and lived there until she was transferred to Hopkinsville when 25 years old. Her case was a strong demonstration of the influence of the law of heredity, as she was the demented offspring of a demented mother. The asylum officials claim that this one demented offspring cost the State more than $10,000 in per capita alone. The woman had no relatives and her remains were interred in the asylum cemetery.

Tobacco.

Attention of tobacco growers is called to the Growers' Tobacco Warehouse, of Lexington, which sells loose tobacco. If the tobacco is loaded in wagons it shows to better advantage; but if it is to be shipped we recommend that it be priced light, 700 to 800 pounds to the headload. We draw shipments from depot free. Free lodging for drivers and places for teams overnight is provided.

Our terms for sale are 2 per cent commission and 15 cents per hundred pounds and pay $1.40 for empty headloads.

Carpenter Selected.

The Kentucky Union has selected as new field secretary of Kentucky, Homer W. Carpenter. The Executive Board met in Cincinnati appointed a committee of three consisting of Mr. Hopper, State President; Mrs. Charles F. Evans, State Secretary, and Miss Nell Williams, Superintendent of Junior Work. The committee began correspondence with Mr. Carpenter and he has now accepted it. Mr. Carpenter is a young man of pleasing personality and bright mind. He is a very interesting speaker, possessing oratorical ability, and quite capable of filling the position, which is one of the most important in young people's work in Kentucky. He once preached at Carnith in this county.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Simple Way to Overcome the Dangers of this Disagreeable Disease.

Stomach dosing in the hope of curing catarrh of the head and throat is useless and often leads to serious stomach trouble.

Hymoni, breathed through a special inhaler that comes with every outfit, brings a medicated healing air to every part of the nose and throat, killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and easing any irritation in the mucous membrane.

A complete Hymoni outfit costs but $1, extra bottles of Hymoni if needed 50 cents, and W. S. Lloyd gives his personal guarantee with every package that money will be refunded unless the treatment cures.

Bill of Exceptions.

Judge Harris, who tried the disbarment proceedings against Judge Becker, declined to come to Winchester to pass upon the bill of exceptions prepared by Judge Becker's attorneys, and Attorney Davis went to Louisville with them to appear before Judge Harris there. This bill of exceptions has been filed in the Court of Appeals. Judge Becker feels confident the higher court will reverse the decision.—Winchester Democrat.

The Racial Square Deal.

"Throughout my term of service in the Presidency I have acted on the principle thus advanced. In the North as in the South I have appointed colored men of high character to office, utterly disregarding the protests of those who would have kept them out of office because they were colored men. So far as was in my power, I have sought to secure for the colored people all their rights under the law. I have done all I could to secure them equal school training when young, equal opportunity to earn their livelihood, and achieve their happiness when old. I have striven to break up peonage; I have upheld the hands of those who, like Judge Jones and Judge Spear, have warred against this peonage, because I would hold myself unfit to be President if I did not feel the same revolt at wrong done a colored man as I feel at wrong done a white man. I have condemned in unstinted terms the crime of lynching permitted by white men, and I should take instant advantage of any opportunity whereby I could bring to justice a mob of lynchmen. In precisely the same spirit I have now acted with reference to these colored men who have been guilty of a black and distasteful crime. In one policy, as in the other, I do not chain as a favor, but I challenge as a right, the support of every citizen of this country, whatever his color, provided only he has in him the spirit of genuine and far-sighted patriotism.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

This is a question asked of Republicans relative to the temperance question, and we can answer it easily by asking another. For years they have had control at Washington and had a question of putting saloon out of business or even the prohibition of the making of whiskey being brought before congress they could have settled that question and saved the people of heart-aches and much expense. Have they done anything along these lines? Will they? Their past record on this subject answers no.

There is no better business city in Mt. Sterling and yet we have many needs. We need better streets. Can the city get them? Yes, she has the credit, then why not? An individual with credit, can lay farms and pay for them, and likewise they build houses and hold large stock interests, and all this on the basis of credit alone. What individuals can do by a struggle corporations can accomplish easily. The council only need to do some finessing to obtain better streets.

Whether or not Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county will be desirable places for investment of capital, the continuance or securing of homes, places fit for the rearing of families depends largely upon the enforcement of law, the willingness of citizens to report wilful violations of law or to protect their own material, social and moral interests. An erring man can sometimes be saved by persuasion, kind words, leniency. We must live for better conditions.

Mayor Harris vetoed the action of the City Council giving saloon license to Manley, successor to Hicks and Alfrey. The Mayor was supported by three councilmen. The people complained and the Mayor did the initiative. Down goes $600. The city would thrive with every one of the saloons out of business. Let them

Kentucky Democrats are getting closer together as was demonstrated in the appointment of men on the Campaign and Advisory Committee. There can be no room for Republicans in the States Administration.

DISGRACE PERPETUATED.

For Revenue Ten Saloons Receive Legal Permit to Debauch and Damn.

Only One Dive Knocked Out. Thanks for Progress.

Last year there were (till Sept. 19) twelve saloons in our city. The powers that be decreed that Allen Bros. should be sidetracked, and they went.

There was a special meeting of the City Council on Monday night for the sole purpose of considering applications for liquor licenses. Councilman Cockrell was the chief spokesman. By unanimous vote of the Council, and as there was no protest, licenses were granted as follows: To Wm. Botts, Jas. P. King, M. A. Weedon, P. H. Davis, J. R. Hainline, Mike Holland, Dan Young, Tody Minihan (at National Hotel), Ed Gibbons, (Dun) Holland & (Thos.) Cook at Bunton Hotel. Total, 10.

Application was made for C. E. Manley, to whom the Dock Hicks license was recently transferred. This has been a tough place. Manley formerly lived at Morehead, and his abandoned wife now lives there. She had written a letter to the Police Judge of Mt. Sterling filing objection to the granting of a license to Manley and asking the Judge to lay her letter before the Council. We doubt not she knew facts. Modesty on our part and a regard for the proprieties of society constrain us to decline telling what she said in that letter. For a confirmation of some facts she referred to several of the leading citizens of Morehead, giving their names. In addition to this protest Mayor C. W. Harris objected to the granting of the license. He said in substance that the current report about town is that Manley is conducting a saloon in the interest of Allen Bros., who in September had by the Circuit Court been put out of business and forever barred from engaging in the same business in Kentucky, also that he had been informed by a very reputable citizen that packages marked "Allen Bros." had more than once been seen on the pavement in front of Manley's saloon; he also admonished the Council to be cautious in setting at naught the decisions of the Circuit Court.

Councilman Cockrell made a plea for Manley, stating that Olliam Greene, cashier of the Traders National Bank, had told him (Cockrell) that for months, and before transfer of Hicks license to Manley, Manley had money on deposit in the Traders National Bank. Then the vote was taken on granting the license. Those voting for the license were Wm. Botts, Boston Botts, Cockrell, Sullivan, Jonett; total, 5. Those voting against license were Bourne, Rodman, Wade; total, 3. Majority for license. Mayor Harris declared his veto to their action. Councilman Cockrell moved and Wm. Botts seconded that the license be granted over the Mayor's veto. The vote stood as on original proposition, but as the 5 votes were not a two-thirds of the Council, the Mayor's veto was sustained, and another dive is knocked out.

There being no further business the Council adjourned.

OBSERVATIONS.
Last week the Council increased the license from $500 to $600. As things now stand, for 1907 there will be ten saloons, each paying $600, total $6,000.

So far as revenue is concerned the city treasury is not changed by the result. So far as decency and honor are concerned the city is making rapid progress, if the closing of two saloons will proportionately reduce the drinking of whisky and the accompanying debauch.

Two more business houses are, temporarily at least, vacant; but that ought not to be regarded seriously. If the writer was owner of those houses he would prefer to have them without tenants than to be used for such a business, just as he and his partner have for years refused to open the columns of this paper to whisky advertising. We don't want revenue that way.

We are pleased to publicly express to the Mayor and Councilmen Bourne, Rodman and Wade our thanks for knocking out that dive.

We are unalterably opposed to licensing saloons. If we had it in our power we would close EVERY SALOON in the State. We advocate prohibition instead of license. We submit to license because the laws of our State authorize the issuance of license. If we have to choose between high and low license, we say put the license so high that the business would be unprofitable and prohibitive.

We may be regarded as a crank, extremist or something worst, but we glory in such reproach (1). We expect to see a fulfillment of our plea—all saloons closed.

Three of our banks have statements in this issue. We ask a careful study of the condition of the financial institutions. Mt. Sterling can easily boast of her banks as solid institutions the same as she can of her city being wide awake, enterprising and plucky.

The daily paper which best meets the demands of the man of the Southland is the Courier-Journal. Its editorials, news and miscellany are just it. The New Year issue is a find.

HAD ENOUGH OF PARTNERS.

Why Moses Had Resolved to Go It Alone in Future.

Opposing the legend in a Georgian town was a grocery run by a colored man, and while waiting for my train I sauntered into the place and asked how business was going.

"Pore, sah, mighty pore," replied the old man. "De trouble an' dat I hain't dun got capital miff."

"Why don't you take in a partner?" I asked. "No, sah—no, sah. I'ze had one partner and don't want no more. One time Kurnel Dawson comes over to my crib wid a bland smile on his face and shakes hand wid me and axes arter my health and says:

"Moses, le's yo' an' me dun go inter partnership in de wood bizness. Yo's a powerful hand wid de ax and I'ze a powerful hand to sell conbroad."

"It appears like a mighty good chance for me, and so I agrees and goes at it and cuts 30 cords of wood. De Kurnel sells it, and bimely I goes down fur my shiver of de money. He smiles and shakes hands and says:

"I'ze dun got it all figured out, Moses. In de first place, I provided de timber. In de next place, I provided de ax. Den I sent my needs to draw de wood and I spent my time to sell it. Dat 'pears to take in de hull of de case!"

"But whar does de choppin' come in?" I says. "De choppin', Moses. Oh, dat was exercise and don't count."

NEW LAMPS FOR OLD.

Johany's dog, Tige, was a nuisance. His pet theory must have been that all things were created to be destroyed—at least, in his practice believed. Johany's father was anxious to be rid of Tige, and at last they decided to work upon the had's affections with lure.

"Johany," said his father one day, "I'll give you five dollars if you'll get rid of that dog."

Johany gazed at the amount, swallowed hard at thought of Tige, and said he would think it over.

The next day at dinner he made the housewife remark: "Pa, I got rid of Tige."

"Well, I certainly am delighted to hear it," said the father. "Heard your money; you've earned it. How did you get rid of the no good?"

"I ded him to Bill Stephens for two yellow in," answered Johany. —Lippincott's.

CWL SICLE A PUPPY.

A Connecticut paper, mentioning the purchase of a fine German puppy by a gentleman named Hans, added: "On Thursday he went away to work, leaving the puppy shut up in the barn. He did not get back till eight o'clock in the evening, and while he was putting out his horses the puppy ran out in the barnyard."

"In a few minutes Hans heard it whining pitiously. Thinking that one of the cattle had either hooked it or stepped on it, he ran out just in time to see a huge horned owl flying off with the puppy in his claws. He ran after him hallooing, but the owl swooped on through an orchard, and this was the last he has since seen of his German puppy."

BREWING COMPANY PAYS $2000

Danville Cases Settled at Frankfort—Agent Withdrawn.

A check for $2,000 was received at Frankfort last Thursday, by W. J. Price, of Danville, and C. A. Harlin, of Mercer county, from Greene & VanWinkle, local counsel for the Weidemann Brewing Company, of Newport, Ky. Mr. Price is the County Attorney of Boyle, while Mr. Harlin is Commonwealth's of his district.

This amount was in full settlement and to clear off twenty indictments which are pending in the Boyle Circuit Court against the brewing company, charging it with selling malt liquors in a local option city. A short time ago the Court of Appeals affirmed a similar case against the Weidemann Brewery from Boyle. The lower court had assessed a fine of $100 against the company and $50 against its agent, and the settlement with the Commonwealth's officers was made on the twenty other indictments pending on the basis of this case and the judgment already affirmed.

Danville has been "dry" for a number of years. Some time ago the Weidemann Brewery people sent an agent to Danville to take orders for beer. It was claimed that the legal advisers of the company had cited authorities to show that as the agent took only the orders, not even receiving the payment for them, that there was no avenue by which the local option law could be made to reach him. He maintained a large delivery wagon in which the beer was delivered to the thirsty in the capital of Boyle, and is said to have done a hand office business.

Messrs. Price and Harlin, however, thought they could make out a good case against both him and the brewery, and accordingly had indictments made in the Circuit Court. They secured a conviction in one case, which was made a law. The brewery carried it to the Court of Appeals, and submitted the case of the most voluminous briefs even seen in support of reversal of the verdict. The judges ruled in favor of the lower court, so there was nothing for the brewery to do but to withdraw its agency and settle the other cases as best it could.

THE HUMAN LOCOMOTIVE.

A certain man, because he was so strong and hearty, laughed he was a locomotive. There was, he thought, no limit to his vitality.

He regarded his stomach as the firebox. All he had to do was to keep the firebox full.

He followed the Mississippi steamboat plan, and crowded everything into his stomach.

One day when he was pulling a heavy load the firebox didn't burn right, so the Human Locomotive stopped to investigate.

He found the firebox choked, the firebox full of dross, and so snuffed with fuel that it couldn't even have a red glimmer.

Somewhat told him to keep a clean fire with a good draft, and feed it regularly with only a certain quantity at a time.

He was further helped to use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for the purpose of putting himself in first-class shape.

He told as he was told, and was soon able to pull and haul as well as ever. Besides he pulled less under a heavy load.

In speaking of discharge of colored troops the President said: "I wish it distinctly understood that the fact of the birthplace of either officer is one which I absolutely refuse to consider. The standard of professional honor and of loyalty to the flag and the service is the same for all officers and all enlisted men of the United States Army, and I resent with the keenest indignation any effort to draw any line among them based upon birthplace, creed or any other consideration of the kind. I should put the same entire faith in these reports if it had happened that they were all made by men coming from some one State, whether in the South or the North, the East or the West, as I now do, when, as it happens, they were made by officers born in different States."

The Secretary of Agriculture estimates the products of the farm for the current year at $6,800,000,000. This is an increase of $600,000,000 over that of 1905, and it is a gain of $2,000,000,000 since the census of 1900 was taken.

FUR CLAD CHICKS.

That nature, although beneficent, may also be shortsighted is shown clearly by an incident related by a correspondent in Science Findings. A friend of his set a hen recently on a sitting of cold storage eggs. Everything went well, and in due time 12 lively little chicks rewarded the old hen's patience.

They grew rapidly, but as the down of their adolescence disappeared it was replaced not by the customary feathers, but by thick and glossy fur of various colors.

The owner's theory is that kindly nature, which adapts all her creatures to their environment, thoughtfully substituted the fur for the feathers during the cold storage period.

So far so good, but the eggs might have been hatched in the tropics, where the chickens would have found the fur a work of supererogation. Nature, if not shortsighted, was at least too impatient to wait until the destination of the eggs was decided on.

THINKS HE GOT OFF EASY.

Clark Howell, of Atlanta, tells of the sad case of an elderly clerk in Georgia charged with the theft of some chickens. The negro had the misfortune to be defended by a young and inexperienced attorney, although it is doubtful whether anyone could have secured his acquittal, the commission of the crime having been proved beyond all doubt.

The jury received a pretty severe sentence. "Thank you, sah," said he, cheerfully, addressing the judge when the sentence had been announced. "Dat's mighty hard, sah, but it ain't nowhere near what I spected. I thought, sah, dat between my character and dat speech of mah lawyer dat you'd hang me shore."

PARISIANS' BREAD.

There is no city in the world where so much bread is consumed as in Paris. It is estimated that every inhabitant eats one pound a day on the average. Even in past centuries the French especially Parisians—had a horror of stale bread. And, as in these days people manufacture their own bread, they had a curious way of making it palatable.

Strange as it may seem, the bread they prepared—large round or square slices—was used as a dish on which the meat was carved, and bore the name of "tranche" or "tranchons." The juice of the meat having penetrated into the bread imparted a pleasant taste and prevented it from becoming dry.

A KINDERGARTEN CASUALTY.

"Children," said the new kindergarten teacher, "we will now play crossing the street. I shall be a big automobile, and you must show me how careful you can be, and get out of my way. There! William, you are run over!" And William, aged five, began to yell with all his might. The rest of the brood looked on with scorn in their eyes, as teacher bound up William's head, and then the first class in self-preservation returned to playing nuts.

What "Tax Free in Kentucky" Would Mean in Development of Bluegrass State.

How the effect of the tax laws of Kentucky is viewed by a prominent Philadelphia banker is expressed in the following extract from a letter received by a well-known Louisville banker who was recently elected to the vice presidency of one of the largest banks of that city:

"If you people can only get a just law in your State then you will assume a position you are entitled to and can maintain through the inherent wealth you have, but until you do, I, as a warm, and I may say enthusiastic, friend of the State, see nothing inviting in your future. I wonder whether your lawmakers have ever thought of what it would mean to the State and the inhabitants thereof, if they could print a prospectus offering bonds issued 'Tax free in Kentucky.' Four words, but how much they mean. They mean that money owned by Kentuckians will be kept within the borders of their State and applied to the development of the State's interests. The State gets a tax on the bonds by assessing a tax rate on the corporation that issues the bonds.

"When I see the truly marvelous development of Pennsylvania and its interests, I stand in wonder and amazement trying to find its cause. I say aside from the State's great natural resources, it is due to the wise and equitable tax laws it has on its statute books. Do you know that notwithstanding the cost of our new State Capitol building—nearly $300,000,000—almost equal that of the Congressional Library building at Washington, the State paid for it out of its revenues and the State now has not a debt of my kind, but a surplus in its treasury?"

STOMACH'S IMPORTANCE.

How to Strengthen it so That It Will Act As It Should.

To enjoy both health and happiness, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and digestive organs should be strong enough to properly digest the food. If they are weak and inactive, the body will soon be in a state of semi-starvation.

Nothing equals Mi-o-n stomach tablets in giving strength and tone to the whole digestive system. Use this remedy for a few days, and you will find the appetite keen, the digestion good, no nausea or distress after eating, no sleeplessness, no nervousness and the backaches and headaches that are the direct results of a weakened stomach, will soon be overcome.

Ask W. S. Lloyd to show you the guarantee which he gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-n. It is the one remedy he has enough faith in to guarantee.

We hope those are not gold bricks instead of gold nuggets they are finding in Estill county.

Blue Laws to Be Invoked If Saloons Are Closed on the Sabbath

Chicago, Dec. 24.—The Tribune today says:

A puritanical Sunday for Chicago, with idle street cars and elevated railroads out of commission, with no newspapers and no Sunday theaters or even sacred concerts, is the retaliation threatened by Alderman Michael Kenna if he is forced to close his saloons on Sunday.

This will be the last resort if the Alderman and other saloon-keepers are compelled to close on Sundays. It will be taken if Mayor or Dunne is directed to obey the State law which forbids the municipal proceedings in Judge Frost's court.

THE HUMAN LOCOMOTIVE.

A certain man, because he was so strong and hearty, imagined he was a locomotive. There was, he thought, no limit to his vitality.

He regarded his stomach as the firebox. All he had to do was to keep the fire-box full.

He followed the Mississippi stevedore plan, and crowded every old thing into his stomach.

One day when he was pulling a heavy load the firebox didn't burn right, so the Human Locomotive stopped to investigate.

He found the firebox choked, the firebox full of cinders, and so stuffed with food that it couldn't even burn a red glimmer.

Somewhere told him to keep a clean fire with a good stoker, and feed it regularly with only a certain quantity at a time.

He was further advised to use Recall Dyspepsia Tablets for the purpose of putting himself in first-class shape.

He did as he was told, and was soon able to pull and haul as well as ever. Besides he pulled less under a heavy load.

Recall Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely guaranteed to cure all the distressing forms of Dyspepsia and Indigestion, or we'll pay for all the medicine you take.

Standard of Loyalty to Flag.

In speaking of discharge of colored troops the President said: "I wish it distinctly understood that the fact of the birthplace of either officer is one which I absolutely refuse to consider. The standard of professional honor and of loyalty to the flag and the service is the same for all officers and all enlisted men of the United States Army, and I resent with the keenest indignation any effort to draw any line among them based upon birthplace, creed or any other consideration of the kind. I should put the same entire faith in these reports if it had happened that they were all made by men coming from some one State, whether in the South or the North, the East or the West, as I now do, when, as it happens, they were made by officers born in different States."

Our Agriculture in 1906.

The Secretary of Agriculture estimates the products of the farm for the current year at $6,900,000,000. This is an increase of $500,000,000 over that of 1905, and it is a gain of $2,000,000,000 since the census of 1900 was taken.

GETTING ALONG NICELY.

Friend—So you will make a dash for the North Pole by airship. Have you the ship yet?

Professor—No, not exactly. Friend—How far are you along with it?

Professor—Well, we have the air.

FUR CLAD CHICKS.

That nature, although beneficent, may also be shortsighted is shown clearly by an incident related by a correspondent in Science.

A friend of his set a hen recently on a sitting of cold storage eggs. Everything went well, and in due time 12 lively little chicks rewarded the old hen's patience.

They grew rapidly, but as the down of their adolescence disappeared it was replaced not by the customary feathers, but by thick and glossy fur of various colors.

The owner's theory is that kindly nature, which adapts all her creatures to their environment, thoughtfully substituted the fur for the feathers during the cold storage period.

So far so good, but the eggs might have been hatched in the tropics, where the chickens would have found the fur a work of supererogation. Nature, if not shortsighted, was at least too impatient to wait until the destination of the eggs was decided on.

THINKS HE GOT OFF EASY.

Clark Howell, of Atlanta, tells of the sad case of an elderly dandy in Georgia charged with the theft of some chickens. The negro had the misfortune to be defended by a young and inexperienced attorney, although it is doubtful whether anyone could have secured his acquittal, the commission of the crime having been proved beyond all doubt.

The dandy received a pretty severe sentence. "Thank you, sah," said he, cheerfully, addressing the judge when the sentence had been pronounced. "Dat's mighty hard, sah, but it ain't nowhere near what I spected. I thought, sah, dat between my character and dat speech of mah lawyer dat you'd hang me shore!"

PARISIANS' BREAD.

There is no city in the world where so much bread is consumed as in Paris. It is estimated that every inhabitant eats one pound a day on the average. Even in past centuries the French—especially Parisians—had a horror of stale bread. And, as in those days people manufactured their own bread, they had a curious way of making it palatable.

Strange as it may seem, the bread they prepared—large round or square slabs—was used as a dish on which the meat was served, and bore the name of "franchises" or "tailloirs." The juice of the meat having penetrated into the bread imparted a pleasant taste and prevented it from becoming dry.

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.

Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynold's brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

THE STAGE OF ICELAND.

A French paper gives an interesting account of the one theater to be found in Iceland. It is, of course, situated at Reykjavik, and it has been open since 1894. There are two or three representations a week, and the dramatic season begins in October and ends in April. The theater receives a subsidy of 300 crowns from the municipality and an equal sum from the Icelandic parliament. As there is no gas in Iceland, it is lighted with petroleum, but next year the electric light is to be introduced. The repertoire consists of the plays of Ibsen and Bjornson, of several of the classical works of Danish literature and of a few comedies by Icelandic authors. An "immense success" means a run of about seven nights; the population of Reykjavik being only about 4,000. As for the actors, it must be difficult for them to make their fortunes, the average salary being only eight shillings a performance. The greatest of the actors—known as the Talma of Iceland—is Christian Thorgeirsson.

THE CAULIFLOWER.

Of the word "cauliflower" a writer in the London Chronicle says: "The modern spelling is artificial, and if we were to write it as it should be written, it would be 'cauliflow'. We are taking a step back in the natural direction. 'Cauliflow', as they spell it in the sixteenth century, brings out the true meaning of the vegetable's name, 'flowered cabbage'—'cole' being an old word for cabbage and 'flow' representing the French 'fleur' or 'flour', flowered. But because in Latin it was called 'cauliflora' it began to be written 'cauliflow' or 'cauliflow'. In English, probably by deliberate assimilation to the Latin, and eventually even to be written 'cauliflow', though still pronounced 'cauliflow'. Meanwhile the second part of the word got popularly corrupted to 'flower'."

DERIVATIONS OF WORDS.

"Culter" according to its present use should mean a man who makes things that cut, but really it has no more to do with "cut" than "culch" and "culter" have, which is just nothing at all. "Culter" has a Celtic origin, but "culter" comes through French from the late Latin "cultrarius," which meant either a soldier armed with a knife or a knife-maker, and "culterus," a little knife, was the diminutive of "culter," which, among other things, meant a plowshare (or "culter"). "Cultratus" comes from the same source and "cultrix" is "cultrix," a little knife.

Bad Stomach Makes

Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to digest food and to disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be toxic, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion.

Dr. J. C. Draper, Jr. writes an excellent paper on "The Food of the Blood." It is of the most practical value to the general public. It is a most efficient preparation. It will relieve many cases of general debility and chronic intestinal disorders, especially the various forms of indigestion, and in every case of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal tract.

TAKING THE BEE CURE.

Pointers on Interesting Subject Given by Life.

One of the latest cures for rheumatism is bees. These are applied to the place or places most in need. Care should be taken before applying the remedy to secure good, active bees. Some bees are naturally timid by nature. They are understood and understood and have the courage of their stingers. It must not always be inferred, however, that the size of a bee determines his power. It frequently happens that a small bee will make up in energy and perseverance what he lacks in avoirdupois.

Some bees have naturally kind dispositions. They avoid trouble. It is almost unnecessary to say that these are not the best for our purposes.

With a little experience the patient will be able to tell almost at a glance the most ferocious bees, and will learn methods of his own to send them on to their task. It is, in fact, possible to examine them individually, and see that their stingers are in perfect order.

It is well known that bees are methodical in their work, and it is not well to hurry them too much. When you have your swarm ready, place yourself unadorned in an armchair with some good book and let the swarm loose in your room.

It is believed that they will instinctively choose the right place to settle, but in case they do not at first, let them try over again. Poke them up occasionally with a sharp stick.

Do not daze off while they are applying the cure. The mental part is essential. The patient's attention should be fixed on himself, even if it requires some effort of the mind.

A MODEL NURSERY.

The House Beautiful describes a model nursery, not a handsome room with furniture made to order, decorated walls, and nursery rhyme pictures, but simply a big, sunny room at the top of the house. "In one corner is the girls' doll house. On a zinc-covered stand under the window is a sizeable glass case with an open end and two lockers. Here the children make dolls and take up here the little girls' work and iron their dolls' clothes without let or hindrance from the rulers of the kitchen. There is a deep chest to this room, with drawers allotted to each child. In the lowest drawer are old gowns of mothers, old hats of father's, the loveliest old artificial flowers, parrots, shawls, delectable and everything you can imagine for dressing up or play-acting. A very small room adjoining is fitted up as a workshop for the oldest boy. A carpenter's bench fills most of the space, having clamps and vice, and drills and screws, and other mysteries requisite to the handicraft. A shaft runs round the room, holding models of various things, of tin, glass, stoneware. A cabinet of tools hangs on the wall."

TEA DRINKING IN INDIA.

The question of drinking tea was practically unknown among natives up to 12 years ago. Government servants were the first to take it up and it is at present principally used in this class. Gradually its use extended to village landlords, and even to the more well-to-do cultivators and village officers, especially within the last three years, the example of railway irrigation employees having materially assisted its introduction. Some estates have a special liking for it and drink it even three or four times a day.

A NEW DIVERSION.

"That fall of seven stories was the finest experience I ever had. The pleasant sensation was the best I have ever enjoyed." The declaration was made by physicians at Bellevue hospital by William Bushell, 19 years old, after he lay down the air shaft from the seventh floor of the Hotel Seville. Bushell, who is a plumber's assistant, lost his footing while working in the air shaft. He received a slight laceration on his head and walked to the Bellevue hospital to have it treated.

"I enjoyed that fall very much," said Bushell to Dr. Lewis. "When I first felt myself going it frightened me, but then came a feeling of delight. I was drunk with the pleasure. I received a shock when I struck the concrete floor in the basement, but that was nothing serious." Chicago Daily News.

T. P. O'Connor, the Irish leader, began a brilliant after-dinner speech in Philadelphia in this way: "I must confess that I dread to make after-dinner speeches. At the most sumptuous dinners, even at such a dinner as this one, if I know that at the end I must make a speech, I am nervous. I have no appetite. I find little to admire in the best efforts of the chef."

"In truth, gentlemen, I can readily imagine David, if he was at all of my mind, leaving a sigh of relief as the lions drew near to a year's hunt—leaving a sigh of relief and murmuring:

"Well, if there's any after-dinner speaking to be done on this occasion, at least it won't be done by me."

EASIER TO SIT.

When the candidate for legislative honors did not wish to answer a question he was never at a loss for ways to avoid it.

The tactful man turned to her with a gallant but deprecating smile. "My dear madam," he said gently, "have you the heart to ask me to stand anywhere after such a dinner as I have eaten to-night?"

OVER THE PHONE.

"Hello, Sam? T. Jackson, Smith? Well, there's a report around town that you're dead."

"Is that so? Well, call me up again if it's any good, will you?" Cleveland Leader.

WASHINGTON, Wash., December 29, 1896. Associate Press Service (Ky.).

Mr. Sterling, Ky.: Gentlemen: I would like to say for the benefit of those thinking of changing their location that to my knowledge a person cannot do better than locate in the North-west. The demand for labor is not so much needed, and you have a market for every thing that is raised. The principal crops in this section of the country are prunes and Irish potatoes. Common labor demands $2.25 per day, teamsters $4.00 per month and board, farm hands $25 to $30 per month. The railroads that are being constructed have to depend wholly upon foreign labor.

Truly yours, R. F. D. No. 1. W. B. HALL.

NATHAN. WARNING.

Mt. Sterling People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you through the urine.

Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unwholesome. If there are settlements and sediment.

Passage too frequent, scanty, painful.

It's time then to use Don's Kidney Pills.

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Ernest Kato, tailor, of Main Street, Paris, Ky., says: "For several years I suffered greatly with kidney trouble. The pains across the small of my back and through my kidneys were most intense. The kidney secretions were much discolored, scalding and irregular. Through the newspapers I learned of the merits of Don's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. Having given this medicine a good trial and realizing so much good from its use, I am in a position to recommend it to all sufferers from kidney troubles."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duverson's drug store and ask what his customers report.

A NEW DIVERSION.

"That fall of seven stories was the finest experience I ever had. The pleasant sensation was the best I have ever enjoyed." The declaration was made to physicians at Bellevue hospital by William Bushell, 19 years old, after he fell down the air shaft from the seventh floor of the Hotel Seville. Bushell, who is a plumber's assistant, lost his footing while working in the air shaft. He received a slight bruise on his head and walked to the Bellevue hospital to have it treated.

"I enjoyed that fall very much," said Bushell to Dr. Lewis. "When I first felt myself going it frightened me, but then came a feeling of delight. I was drunk with exquisite pleasure. I received a shock when I struck the concrete flooring on the basement, but that was nothing serious."—Chicago Daily News.

T. P. O'Connor, the Irish leader, began a brilliant after-dinner speech in Philadelphia in this way: "I must confess that I dread to make after-dinner speeches. At the most sumptuous dinners, even at such a dinner as this one, if I know that at the end I must make a speech, I am nervous. I have no appetite, I find little to admire in the best efforts of the chef."
"In truth, gentlemen, I can readily imagine Daniel, if he was at all of my mind, having a sigh of relief as the focus drew near to devour him—having a sigh of relief and murmuring:
"Well, if there's any after-dinner sneaking to be done on this occasion, at least it won't be done by me."

EASIER TO SIT.

When the candidate for legislative honors did not wish to answer a question he was never at a loss for ways to avoid it.

The tactful man turned to her with a gallant but demure smile. "My dear madam," he said gently, "have you the heart to ask me to stand anywhere after such a dinner as I've eaten to-night?"

OVER THE PHONE.

"Hello, hello! This son, Smith? Why, there's a report around town that you're dead!"
"Is that so? Well, call me up again if it's not dead, will you?"—Cleveland Leader.

Gentlemen: I would like to say for the benefit of those thinking of changing their location that to my knowledge a person cannot do better than locate in the Northwest. The demand for labor can not be supplied, and you have a market for every thing that is raised. The principal crops in this section of the country are prunes and Irish potatoes. Common labor demands $2.25 per day, teamsters $40.00 per month and board, farm hands $25. to $30 per month. The railroads that are being constructed have to depend wholly upon foreign labor.

Truly yours,

NATIONAL WARNING.

Mt. Sterling People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—unobtrusively. But nature always warns you through the urine. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment.
Passage too frequent, scanty, painful.
It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills.
To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Ernest Rule, tailor, of Main Street, Paris, Ky., says: "For several years I suffered greatly with kidney trouble. The pains across the small of my back and through my kidneys were most intense. The kidney secretions were much discolored, scalding and irregular. Through the newspapers I learned of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. Having given this medicine a good trial and realizing so much good from its use, I am in a position to recommend it to all sufferers from kidney troubles."
Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what his customers report.
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 25-31.

Y. M. C. A.

Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Kentucky has issued a statement regarding the progress of the Association building movement in the State during 1906, which shows a record greatly in excess of any previous year. The securing of buildings for the various Associations, city, railroad and county, has been one of the foremost features in the policy of the State Executive Committee for the past few years, and the responses for an adequate equipment for the Association work has been highly satisfactory.

It is interesting to note that 18 years ago, when Mr. Rosevear began work as State Secretary of the Kentucky Associations, the valuation of Association building property in the State was $20,000. At close of 1906, the amount invested in buildings and building funds in 19 different communities is $487,000, which places Kentucky in this respect clearly in the lead of all other Southern States.

1906 has been the banner year in this splendid development, the grand total of $174,000 having been secured at fifteen different points, as follows: Ashland, $16,000; Central City, $2,000; Corbin Railroad, $5,000; Covington Railroad, $16,000; Danville, $6,000; Georgetown, $19,000; Greenville, $8,500; Henderson, $35,000; Hopkinsville, $20,000; Lexington Railroad, $6,000; Madisonville, $20,000; Midway, $2,000; Russell Railroad, $5,000; Sturgis, $3,000; Versailles, $13,000.

The following is a list of the subscriptions of $1,000 and upwards during the year: F. J. Brownell, Hopkinsville, $2,000; R. H. Souper, Henderson, $2,000; John A. Baggett, Henderson, $2,000; Jas. R. Barrett, Henderson, $2,000; Mrs. Virginia Gibbs, Henderson, $5,000; L. & N. Railroad to Corbin Railroad, $4,000 and to Lexington Railroad, $4,000 and site, to Ashland Railroad, $10,000 and site, and to Covington Railroad, $11,000 and site.

We are pleased to heartily commend them to the people there as worthy of confidence, fellowship and companionship. For years Mr. Strossman has been clerk of the Christian Church. We regret to lose them from our city.

D. M. Reed, of Mountain City Tenn., agent for The Fred Brenner Lumber Co., of Norfolk, Va. spent Xmas holiday's here with wife and babies. He is a son-in-law of W. H. Wilkerson. His wife and babies accompanied him as far back as Winchester, Ky., where they spent several days with A. Lipscomb's family. Mr. Reed is a traveling man and an elk. He was the lucky man who drew the $15.00 handsome basket of candies and fruits at T. K. Barnes and Sons.

Our accounts are all ready and we ask all those indebted to us to call and settle.

Y. M. C. A.

Hon. E. Roosevelt, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Kentucky has issued a statement regarding the progress of the Association building movement in the State during 1906, which shows a record greater in excess of any previous year. The securing of buildings for the various Associations, city, railroad and county, has been one of the foremost features in the policy of the State Executive Committees for the past few years, and the responses for an adequate equipment for the Association work has been highly satisfactory.

It is interesting to note that 18 years ago, when Mr. Roosevelt began work as State Secretary of the Kentucky Association, the valuation of Association building property in the State was $20,000. At close of 1906, the amount invested in buildings and building funds in 19 different communities is $487,000, which places Kentucky in this respect clearly in the lead of all other Southern States.

1906 has been the banner year in this splendid development, the grand total of $174,000 having been secured at fifteen different points, as follows: Ashland, $16,000; Central City, $2,000; Corbin Railroad, $5,000; Covington Railroad, $10,000; Danville, $6,000; Georgetown, $19,000; Greenville, $8,500; Henderson, $35,000; Hopkinsville, $29,000; Lexington Railroad, $6,000; Madisonville, $29,000; Midway, $2,000; Russell Railroad, $5,000; Sturgis, $3,000; Versailles, $13,000.

The following is a list of the subscriptions of $3,000 and upwards during the year: F. J. Brownell, Hopkinsville, $2,000; R. H. Souper, Henderson, $2,000; John A. Barret, Henderson, $2,000; Jas. B. Barret, Henderson, $2,000; Mrs. Virginia Gibbs, Henderson, $5,000; L. & N. Railroad to Corbin Railroad, $4,000; to Lexington Railroad, $4,000; and to Ashland Railroad, $10,000; and to Covington Railroad, $11,000 and site.
